Dear Scott:

Congratulations on being part of the U.S. Federal Courthouse Billings, Montana project team. As you may already know, this project recently won a Design-Build Honor Award from the Design-Build Institute of America. A listing of all project winners can be found at <http://www.dbia.org/awards>.

You were listed as a "key" team member on this project, and can be justly proud of your achievement. The important role of effective "team performance" in design-build project delivery cannot be emphasized enough. Based on the award submission, it is clear that the teaming partners were carefully selected. All players, including the owner, engaged and collaboratively interacted throughout the design and construction phases. This type of team performance exemplifies "design-build done right."

Feel free to share the news of your involvement in this award winning project, especially among others on your project team, but also more broadly via your own announcements and press releases.

We encourage you to celebrate your achievement by making plans now to be present at the awards dinner and ceremony to be held on November 5th at the 2013 Design-Build Conference & Expo in Las Vegas. A conference brochure is enclosed for your convenience.

If you have any questions, don't hesitate to contact DBIA at awards@dbia.org. We will respond promptly to your queries.

Congratulation, again! I hope to see you this fall in Vegas.

Sincerely,
